VICTOR B. MATTHEWS

PLAINTIFF

vs.

Civil No. 4:20-cv-04069

ANDREW SAUL,
Commissioner, Social Security Administration

MEMORANDUM OPINION

Plaintiff, Victor B. Matthews, brings this action pursuant to § 205(g) of Title II of the Social Security Act (“The Act”), 42 U.S.C. § 405(g) (2010), seeking judicial review of a final decision of the Commissioner of the Social Security Administration (“SSA”) denying his applications for Disability Insurance Benefits (“DIB”) and Supplemental Security Income (“SSI”) under Titles II and XVI of the Act.

The Parties have consented to the jurisdiction of a magistrate judge to conduct any and all proceedings in this case, including conducting the trial, ordering the entry of a final judgment, and conducting all post-judgment proceedings. ECF No. 4. Pursuant to this authority, the Court issues this memorandum opinion and orders the entry of a final judgment in this matter.

1. Background:

Plaintiff protectively filed an application for DIB and SSI. (Tr. 109-121)¹. In his applications, Plaintiff alleged being disabled due to a back injury. (Tr. 162). Plaintiff alleged an onset date of July 24, 2007. Id. Plaintiff’s applications were denied initially and again upon reconsideration. (Tr. 64-65)

Following an administrative hearing, the ALJ issued an unfavorable decision on June 1, 2009. (Tr. 9-22). The Appeals Council denied Plaintiff's review, and Plaintiff appealed. (Tr. 1-7, 396-398). On June 15, 2011, this Court remanded the case for further proceedings. (Tr. 383-391). Following a second hearing, an ALJ issued an unfavorable decision on March 13, 2013. (Tr. 325-364). Plaintiff appealed, and on May 27, 2014, this Court remanded the case for further proceedings. (Tr. 542-550). After a third hearing, the ALJ issued an unfavorable decision on October 20, 2015. (Tr. 482-522). Plaintiff appealed, and on January 30, 2017, this Court remanded the case for further proceedings following Defendant's Unopposed Motion to Remand. (Tr. 780-781).

Following this, Plaintiff had a fourth administrative hearing on May 20, 2019. (Tr. 733-756). At this hearing, Plaintiff was present, and represented by counsel Jim Wyly. Id. Plaintiff and Vocational Expert ("VE"), Phunda Yarbrough testified at the hearing. Id.

Following the administrative hearing, on July 3, 2019, the ALJ entered an unfavorable decision. (Tr. 715-725). In this decision, the ALJ found Plaintiff met the insured status of the Act through December 31, 2012. (Tr. 717, Finding 1). The ALJ also found Plaintiff had not engaged in substantial gainful activity ("SGA") since July 24, 2007. (Tr. 717, Finding 2).

The ALJ then determined Plaintiff had the severe impairments of right hip arthritis, mild emphysema, degenerative disc disease of the lumbar and cervical spine, and residuals of the right upper extremity related to Buerger's disease. (Tr. 717, Finding 3). Despite being severe, the ALJ determined those impairments did not meet or medically equal the requirements of any of the Listings of Impairments in 20 CFR Part 404, Subpart P, Appendix 1 ("Listings"). (Tr. 718, Finding 4).

The ALJ considered Plaintiff's subjective complaints and determined his RFC. (Tr. 719-724). The ALJ evaluated Plaintiff's subjective complaints and found his claimed limitations were not entirely consistent with the medical evidence and other evidence in the record. Id. The ALJ also determined Plaintiff retained the RFC to perform a reduced range of light work. Id.

The ALJ then evaluated Plaintiff's Past Relevant Work ("PRW") and determined Plaintiff was not capable of performing his PRW. (Tr. 724, Finding 6). However, the ALJ found there were jobs in the significant numbers in the national economy that Plaintiff could perform. (Tr. 724, Finding 10). With the help of the VE, the ALJ found Plaintiff could perform the representative occupations of (1) merchandise marker with approximately 463,578 jobs in the nation, (2) furniture rental clerk with approximately 95,773 jobs in the nation, and (3) cashier II with approximately 1,717,364 jobs in the nation. Id. Based upon this finding, the ALJ determined Plaintiff had not been disabled from July 24, 2007 through December 31, 2012. (Tr. 725, Finding 11).

On August 24, 2020, Plaintiff filed the present appeal. ECF No. 1. Both Parties have filed appeal briefs. ECF Nos. 15, 18. This case is now ready for decision.

2. Applicable Law:

It is well-established that a claimant for Social Security disability benefits has the burden of proving his or her disability by establishing a physical or mental disability that lasted at least one year and that prevents him or her from engaging in any substantial gainful activity. See Cox v. Apfel, 160 F.3d 1203, 1206 (8th Cir. 1998); 42 U.S.C. §§ 423(d)(1)(A), 1382c(a)(3)(A). The Act defines a "physical or mental impairment" as "an impairment that results from anatomical, physiological, or psychological abnormalities which are demonstrable by medically acceptable clinical and laboratory diagnostic techniques." 42 U.S.C. §§ 423(d)(3), 1382(3)(c). A plaintiff must show that his or her disability, not simply his or her impairment, has lasted for at least twelve consecutive months. See 42 U.S.C. § 423(d)(1)(A).

To determine whether the adult claimant suffers from a disability, the Commissioner uses the familiar five-step sequential evaluation. He determines: (1) whether the claimant is presently engaged in a “substantial gainful activity”; (2) whether the claimant has a severe impairment that significantly limits the claimant’s physical or mental ability to perform basic work activities; (3) whether the claimant has an impairment that meets or equals a presumptively disabling impairment listed in the regulations (if so, the claimant is disabled without regard to age, education, and work experience); (4) whether the claimant has the Residual Functional Capacity (RFC) to perform his or her past relevant work; and (5) if the claimant cannot perform the past work, the burden shifts to the Commissioner to prove that there are other jobs in the national economy that the claimant can perform. See Cox, 160 F.3d at 1206; 20 C.F.R. §§ 404.1520(a)-(f). The fact finder only considers the plaintiff’s age, education, and work experience in light of his or her RFC if the final stage of this analysis is reached. See 20 C.F.R. §§ 404.1520, 416.920 (2003).

3. Discussion:

Plaintiff brings the present appeal claiming the ALJ erred (1) in considering his subjective complaints of pain and (2) in the RFC determination. ECF No. 15, Pgs. 4-10. In response, Defendant argues the ALJ did not err in any of her findings. ECF No. 18.

This Court’s role is to determine whether the Commissioner’s findings are supported by substantial evidence on the record as a whole. Ramirez v. Barnhart, 292 F.3d 576, 583 (8th Cir. 2002). Substantial evidence is less than a preponderance, but it is enough that a reasonable mind would find it adequate to support the Commissioner’s decision. The ALJ’s decision must be affirmed if the record contains substantial evidence to support it. Edwards v. Barnhart, 314 F.3d 964, 966 (8th Cir. 2003). As long as there is substantial evidence in the record that supports the Commissioner's decision, the Court may not reverse it simply because substantial evidence exists in the record that would have supported a contrary outcome, or because the Court would have decided the case differently. Haley v. Massanari, 258 F.3d 742, 747 (8th Cir. 2001). In other words, if after reviewing the record it is possible to draw two inconsistent positions from the evidence and one of those positions represents the findings of the ALJ, the decision of the ALJ must be affirmed. Young v. Apfel, 221 F.3d 1065, 1068 (8th Cir. 2000).

The Court has reviewed the entire transcript and the parties' briefs. For the reasons stated in the ALJ's well-reasoned opinion and in the Government's brief, the Court finds Plaintiff's arguments on appeal to be without merit and finds the record as a whole reflects substantial evidence to support the ALJ's decision. Accordingly, the ALJ's decision is hereby summarily affirmed and Plaintiff's Complaint is dismissed with prejudice. See Sledge v. Astrue, 364 Fed. Appx. 307 (8th Cir. 2010) (district court summarily affirmed the ALJ).

4. Conclusion:

Based on the foregoing, the undersigned finds that the decision of the ALJ, denying benefits to Plaintiff, is supported by substantial evidence, and should be affirmed. A judgment incorporating these findings will be entered pursuant to Federal Rules of Civil Procedure 52 and 58.

ENTERED this 7th day of May 2021.
